THE ROLE OF THE FREEHOLDERS

The term “Freeholder” can be traced to the colonial period of American history. In New Jersey’s 1776 Constitution, the state vested the power to govern counties in an elected body of “men” who held or owned land outright with no debt or mortgages to be Chosen by their peers. The body was deemed the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Although there is no longer a requirement to own land and all citizens of legal age have the right to vote and hold office, the term Freeholder has endured. New Jersey has 21 Counties, each governed by a Board of Chosen Freeholders. No two counties are exactly the same—counties’ demographic, geographic and economic characteristics dictate how they deliver services to their communities. The organization and structure of counties are tailored to fit their communities’ needs.

In Passaic County’s commission form of government, the Freeholders discharge both the legislative and executive responsibilities of government. The seven-member board is headed by a Freeholder Director who is selected to serve a one-year term at the Board’s annual reorganization meeting held in January. Each Freeholder is elected at-large for a staggered 3-year term.

The Passaic County Freeholders are responsible for an annual budget of about $455 million serving 512,607 residents in sixteen municipalities.

THE ROLE OF THE FREEHOLDERS

The Passaic County Freeholders support and are responsible for:

- Maintenance of 533 miles of County roads and 358 bridges.
- 11 County Parks with over 4,000 acres of open space.
- The Passaic County Sheriff's Office, with the responsibility of public safety, the County Jail, and Courthouse security; as well as the County Prosecutor's Office.
- The Preakness Healthcare Center, a 406-bed skilled nursing facility providing sub-acute, long-term, respite and hospice care.
- The Passaic County Community College, serving 15,000 students in Northern New Jersey.
- The Passaic County Technical Institute, a vocational/technical high school, serving 3,400 students.
- Social Service Programs for the elderly, the poor and people with disabilities.
- Preakness Valley Golf Course, a 36-hole public state-of-the-art golf facility.
- Other services provided to County residents, such as mental health and anti-addiction services, veterans' programs, heating assistance and more.

FREEHOLDER DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Neighbor,

On behalf of the Passaic County Board of Chosen Freeholders, I am pleased to present the 2019 Passaic County Directory. This handbook contains information on local, county, state and federal governments, including relevant contact information for the numerous programs and services that are available to you as a resident of Passaic County.

Whether you are a student or a senior, new to our county or a life-long resident, or anywhere in between, your Freeholders are committed to making Passaic County a place where you can count on high quality services and responsive government. We encourage you to read through this directory to learn more about these services and programs. Please feel free to contact the appropriate staff with any questions or concerns you may have. They are eager to help you.

In recent years, we've made investments in needed infrastructure and improvements to County parks and historic sites; enhanced services for the county's fragile populations; expanded academic opportunities at PCTI and PCCC; and sought new ways to help local businesses and residents thrive. And we've done it while maintaining a record of sound fiscal management: Passaic County's credit rating is the highest it's ever been. In addition, we have adopted shared services agreements with Passaic County municipalities and with neighboring counties, to regionalize operations and save taxpayers money.

Your Passaic County Freeholders are proud of these accomplishments, and excited about what lies ahead. With more than 500,000 residents spread across municipalities that range from urban to rural, our slogan "Rich History... Bright Future" has never been more spot-on than right now. United in our extraordinary diversity, committed to the well-being of all, we will continue to make our county the best it can be. We're glad to have you as part of our community!

Sincerely,
John W. Bartlett
Passaic County Freeholder Director

PARKS & RECREATIONAL FACILITIES

APSHAWA PRESERVE, *West Milford

Apshawa Preserve is an untouched 594-acre park with a 43-acre reservoir and miles of meandering hiking trails good for beginners and experts alike. Apshawa offers a diversity of habitats and beautiful vistas that attract nature enthusiasts, birdwatchers, and photographers. Hiking trails can be found via Google Maps and on-site kiosks. 68 acres of this park is owned by the NJ Conservation Foundation, a non-profit that works to preserve and expand the trail network at this park.

FRIENDSHIP PARK, *Bloomington

Friendship Park is an approximately 44-acre park with short looping hiking trail in a natural woodland setting. The 1 mile trail, which is perfect for beginners, is regularly blazed and maintained by volunteers through the NY-NJ Trail Conference.

GARRET MOUNTAIN RESERVATION, *Woodland Park

Located on the borders in Paterson, Clifton, and Woodland Park, this 310-acre recreational area designed by the Olmsted Brothers Firm provides many open grass areas, a stocked lake for fishing, and an equestrian center. Situated more than 500 feet above sea level, the reservation also offers sweeping views of northern New Jersey, from Passaic County to the Manhattan skyline. At the Garret Mountain Equestrian Center, residents can learn horseback riding during summer riding camps, or take their families on trail rides. Additionally, the Park features picnic areas, a boat house, and trails for both hikers and bikers. The Lambert Observation Tower is also housed at Garret Mountain. Garret Mountain Reservation is the site of a myriad of county events, including the annual County Fair.

GOFFLE BROOK PARK, *Hawthorne

This scenic 103-acre park in Hawthorne, designed by the famed Olmsted Brothers Firm, offers passive and active recreation opportunities. Features include picnic areas, a dog park, playground equipment, athletic fields, and sledding opportunities. The park is also home to the John Rea House, which was built circa 1835 and is listed on State and National Register of Historic Places. In 2013, the county completed a restoration project that significantly improved the natural beauty of the park, while maintaining the historic intent of the Olmsted design.

GREAT FALLS NATIONAL HISTORIC DISTRICT

McBride Avenue Extension and Spruce Street, Paterson

Paterson is America's first planned industrial city and a cradle of American industry. In 1791, Secretary of the Treasury Alexander Hamilton promoted a state-chartered corporation called the "Society for Establishing Useful Manufactures" (S.U.M.). Through Hamilton's influence, the directors of the S.U.M. located the town of Paterson at the Great Falls of the Passaic River. The new town was named after William Paterson, then the Governor of New Jersey, in appreciation of his approval of their plans. The industries that ultimately emerged produced textile machinery, steam locomotives, silk weaving and dyeing, revolvers, aircraft engines, and various other products. Over the centuries, people from around the world immigrated to bring their knowledge and labor to take advantage of the opportunities and prosperity that gave Paterson its nickname "Silk City." The S.U.M. continued its corporate existence well into the 20th century. In 1945, its property, assets, charter rights, raceway system and steam and hydroelectric power plants were sold to the City of Paterson. On June 6, 1976, President Gerald R. Ford visited Paterson and officially designated the 119- acre Great Falls/S.U.M. historic district as a National Historic Landmark District, the highest cultural designation that can be bestowed on a place in America.

With the stalwart sponsorship of NJ's congressional representatives, President Barak Obama signed legislation passed by Congress in 2009 creating the Great Falls National Park as America's 397th National Park. On November 7, 2011, Ken Salazar, United State Secretary of the Interior, signed an agreement with the City of Paterson establishing the park. Today the National Park Service maintains the Great Falls Welcome Center, where visitors are greeted and can begin a tour of the park. It is located across from the Great Falls parking lot, at 65 McBride Avenue extension. For more information, call (973) 279-9587.

LAMBERT CASTLE, GARRET MOUNTAIN RESERVATION

3 Valley Road, Paterson

Constructed in 1892 as the home and showplace of silk manufacturer, Catholina Lambert, the 53-acre estate originally included the mansion, gatehouse, carriage-greenhouse complex and formal Italianate gardens. Four years later, Lambert added an art gallery and the observation tower. The property is now owned by the County of Passaic and is an integral part of Garret Mountain Reservation.

Catholina Lambert was born to working class parents in England in 1834. At the age of 17, the future silk magnate and his brother immigrated to America. Lambert settled in the Boston area and was hired as a bookkeeper for the silk firm of Tilt and Dexter. Tilt withdrew from the firm and Dexter loaned Lambert the necessary funds to buy into the partnership. The firm, then known as Dexter-Lambert, relocated its base of operations to Paterson, NJ. In 1867, Paterson was emerging as a world-class silk manufacturing center.

Lambert's business thrived from 1875 to 1890. To accompany his rise in fortune, Lambert decided to build a new home befitting his station as one of Paterson's leading industrialists. "Belle Vista" was constructed of sandstone, much of it quarried from Garret Mountain. Construction took a year to complete and is estimated to have cost between $200,000 - $500,000. The interior of the Castle was organized around a three-story open atrium called the court. It was here that Lambert displayed many of his prized European and American paintings. His collection included works by Rembrandt, Renoir, Courbet, Monet, and Balkelock.

The Castle was purchased by the Passaic County Park Commission in 1928. Lambert Castle was extensively restored and rehabilitated by the Board of Chosen Freeholders and rededicated in 2000. For information, please call (973) 247-0085.

HAMILTON-VAN WAGONER HOUSE

971 Valley Road, Clifton

This home is a representative example of the pioneer homesteads that once dotted what was known as “old Acquackanonk.” With its graceful gambrel roof and red sandstone, the house reflects many of the characteristics of the architecture of early New Jersey Dutch colonists. Although the Hamilton family resided in the house for 116 years, actually only three generations called it home, ending in 1972 with the death of Henry Hamilton. At that time, the newly appointed Clifton Historical Commission approached the city council and urged that the house become a historical museum.

It subsequently was moved across Valley Road into Surgent Park. Each room in the house reflects the different lives of the various families who called it home. No record has been found when the first dwelling was built on the original site or what it looked like. The property, however, passed from Garet Garritsee, one of the original Acquackanonk settlers, through his descendants to Hermanus Van Wagoner, who was living in a nearby house at the time of the Revolution. In 1804, Anna Vreeland inherited the property from her grandfather, Garret Van Wagoner, son of Hermanus. She married John J. Vreeland, a mason. Sometime around 1815, they built what is the main section of the house.

The original house, some researchers believe, continued to be used as a kitchen. In 1837, the Vreelands sold the property to Jacob and Sarah Van Riper. At about this time the kitchen was enlarged and attached to the main house. The house remained basically unchanged for the next 135 years, save for some modernizing in the 1880’s and the installation of plumbing in the early 20th century. ## PATERSON MUSEUM-THOMAS ROGERS BUILDING

2 Market Street, Paterson

Owned and maintained by the City of Paterson, the Museum was organized in 1925. Its first exhibit, displayed in the assembly room of the Danforth Public Library, consisted of natural history objects donated by local residents. Two years later, the growing collection was moved to the adjacent carriage house of former Mayor Nathan Barnert, and within a few years, its mineral collection was one of the largest in New Jersey. The museum was relocated to the restored Thomas Rogers Locomotive Erecting Shop in 1982, giving visitors the opportunity of viewing a variety of artifacts and exhibits which help tell the industrial history of Paterson. Visitors will enjoy looking over the dyeing, winding, warping, weaving, and Jacquard loom products that gave Paterson its worldwide reputation in silk and textiles.

Changing exhibits complement the museum's permanent displays. For several years, the Museum had featured the work of local and metropolitan artists. Historical researchers will find ample documentary resources on city history, which include the papers of submarine inventor John Philip Holland, original manuscripts, and a photograph collection consisting of approximately 50,000 negatives and prints. The museum is open to the public 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 12:30-4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. For more information, please call (973) 321-1260 or visit www.patersonmuseum.com.

DEY MANSION

199 Totowa Road, Wayne

The Dey Mansion, built circa 1770, was the home to Theunis and Hester Dey and served as General George Washington's headquarters during July, October and November of 1780. The Dey family was one of prominence, with roots in the American colony dating back to 1641, when Dirck Janszen Siecken Dey, a soldier with the Dutch West India Company, arrived in New Amsterdam (New York). In 1674, after the English had captured most of New Amsterdam, Dirck Siecken was on a list of the best and most affluent inhabitants of the colony. More than four decades later his grandson, also named Dirck, purchased from the heirs of a man named Thomas Hart six hundred acres at Preakness, now Wayne, NJ. The land passed to his son Theunis Dey in 1764. He took up a prominent role in public life representing Bergen County in the State Council and was a charter trustee of the Queen's College (now Rutgers, the State University).

General Richard Dey, Colonel Dey's eldest son, sold the homestead and 335 acres of land in 1801. From then on, various private owners possessed the mansion and surrounding acreage until January 10, 1930, when it was acquired by the Passaic County Park Commission. During the winter of 1933-34, it was restored under the supervision of Charles Over Cornelius, architect and former associate curator of decorative arts at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The Dey Mansion was opened to the public on October 8, 1934. In 1970 the Dey Mansion was entered on the New Jersey and National Register of Historic Places. In 2010, the Passaic County Board of Chosen Freeholders began a comprehensive project to further restore and rehabilitate the Mansion. This project completed in 2016, was funded by the New Jersey Historic Trust and the Freeholders' Open Space, Farmland and Historic Preservation Trust Fund.

VAN RIPER-HOPPER HOUSE

Wayne Township Historical Commission, 533 Berdan Avenue, Wayne

Van Riper-Hopper House Museum is part of Wayne Historic House Museums complex located at 533 Berdan Ave. It offers a unique opportunity to experience history in various ways: architectural, cultural, local preservation, and living history interpretation. Both the Van Riper-Hopper House (1786) and Van Duyne House (1706 altered mid-1700s) were both put on the National and State Registers of Historic Places in the criterion of construction and design. These Dutch stone houses exist nowhere else in the world except what was New Netherlands.

Van Riper-Hopper House is actually two Dutch stone houses, Dutch Colonial and Dutch American, connected later by adding a parlor. The Van Riper-Hopper family resided there from 1786 to 1928. Each of the first floor rooms is interpreted to a different time period with furniture and an abundance of artifacts. The second floor contains a non-circulating history library and archives, and period-furnished bedrooms.

Van Duyne House was saved from demolition and moved in 1974 as a result of the widening of State Highway 23. Because its original location was near Passaic River Revolutionary War encampments, written sources cite the house as a way-station for Continental soldiers. An archaeological dig and study were performed near the original site, and the artifacts are now located in an Archaeology Lab at the complex.

Both houses are open by appointment year-round with a schedule of programs, events and exhibits listed at www.waynetownship.com. Adding to the historical experience at the Wayne Historic House Museums complex are: the Albert Payson Terhune exhibit room and collections, a brick smokehouse, historical gardens, Community Garden with 30 plots, birdwatching benches and brochures, and several picnic tables. The complex grounds are open from dawn to dusk. For more information, please call (973) 694-7192.

THE MANOR & FORGES OF RINGWOOD

Ringwood State Park, Ringwood

Ringwood Manor is a National Historic Landmark District, having historical importance spanning from Native American occupation through the early 20th century. The surrounding Ramapo Mountains' rich magnetite iron deposits made the area a major iron supplier and became the home to a succession of ironmasters for over two hundred years. Ringwood produced munitions for every major armed conflict from the French and Indian War to World War I.

During the Gilded Age, Ringwood Manor became a large summer estate for partners Peter Cooper and Abram S. Hewitt and their families. In 1938, Ringwood Manor, its contents, and the surrounding property were donated by the family to the State of New Jersey as a museum and state park. With original historical structures, gardens, and landscapes on 582 acres and extensive historical collections illustrative of family life, community, industry and culture, Ringwood Manor is a unique repository of American history.

Today, Ringwood Manor is a central part of Ringwood State Park and administered by the NJ Department of Environmental Protection, Division of Parks and Forestry. ## SKYLANDS BOTANICAL GARDEN

1304 Sloatsburg Road, Ringwood

The New Jersey Botanical Garden at Skylands in Ringwood State Park is the centerpiece of a property assembled by Francis Lynde Stetson from pioneer farmsteads in the Ramapo Mountains. Stetson named his country estate “Skylands” and maintained a stylish mansion of native granite, a working farm with more than thirty outbuildings, gardens and a vast lawn that included a nine-hole golf course. The gardens cover an extensive area on both sides of Maple Avenue.

Skylands was sold in 1922 to Clarence McKenzie Lewis, an investment banker and trustee of the New York Botanical Garden. Lewis wanted the property for a summer residence, but in the process decided to make Skylands a botanical showplace. The Stetson house was torn down and was replaced by a Tudor mansion of native granite. Lewis engaged the most prominent landscape architects of his day to design the gardens. Most of the trees now framing the house were planted at that time, including the magnificent copper beeches. Lewis stressed symmetry, color, texture, form and fragrance in his gardens. For thirty years, Lewis collected plants from all over the world and from New Jersey roadsides. The result is one of the finest collections of plants in the state.

In 1966, New Jersey purchased 1,117 acres of the Skylands property from Shelton College. The Skylands Garden was the first property purchased under the Green Acres program. In March 1984, Governor Thomas Kean designated 96 acres surrounding the manor house as the State’s official botanical garden. Included among the Annual Garden are the Crab Apple Vista, the Perennial Border, the Lilac Garden, the Peony Garden, the Summer Garden, the Azaleas Garden, the Magnolia Walk, Octagonal Garden, and the Winter Garden. ## LONG POND IRONWORKS MUSEUM

1334 Greenwood Lake Turnpike (past the Monksville Reservoir), West Milford

Long Pond Ironworks was founded in 1766 by Peter Hasenclever as part of a vast industrial empire sponsored by British investors. Headquartered at nearby Ringwood Manor, Hasenclever developed a full iron working complex and workers' village along the Wynokie River, modern day Greenwood Lake. In operation by 1767, the ironworks included roads, dams, houses, barns, mills, an iron smelting furnace, and a four-fire forge. Operating from colonial times until the 1880's, the ironworks was run by a succession of famous ironmasters including Robert Erskine during the American Revolution, Martin Ryerson during the War of 1812, and Peter Cooper and Abram S. Hewitt during the Civil War. 120 years of evolving iron making technology are evidenced on the site by the remains of three blast furnaces, waterwheels, and raceways.

Long Pond Ironworks was dedicated as a State Park in 1987. The 175-acre wooded site is listed on both the state and national registers of historic places, as well as, having National Historic Landmark District status.
